The book covers a wide variety of important topics related to human resource, industrial relations and industrial psychology. This includes topics on unemployment, globalization, labour market conditions, health care expenditure in selected Asian countries, trade union issues, socio-cultural adjustment, occupational stress and psychological health.

In today's business and economic sphere, the field of human resource, industrial relations and psychological issues are crucial especially in the process of economic development. Thus, there is a pressing need to see these issues in the context of research, practice and teaching. Students, lecturers and researchers will find this book particularly useful. Whatever your background or discipline, a thorough study of this text will put you in good stead.

STRATEGIC CURRENTS: EMERGING TREND IN SOUTHEAST ASIA

Southeast Asia may be going through a new phase. The region is experiencing new challenges as well as changes in its geostrategic and economic environment. Such changes have become more evident over the last few years, as manifested in a range of issues such as climate change, ASEAN identity, regionalism and religion. This volume reflects some of what possibly could be emerging trends in the region, as captured in a series of commentaries written for the S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies (RSIS), the Nanyang Technological University between 2007 and early 2008. Edited by Yang Razali Kassim, and succinctly written in a readable and engaging style by regional experts, policy contributors and other personalities, including Malaysia's former deputy prime minister and finance minister Anwar Ibrahim, this book hopes to generate thinking on some of the key issues that are emerging to confront Southeast Asia and ASEAN.

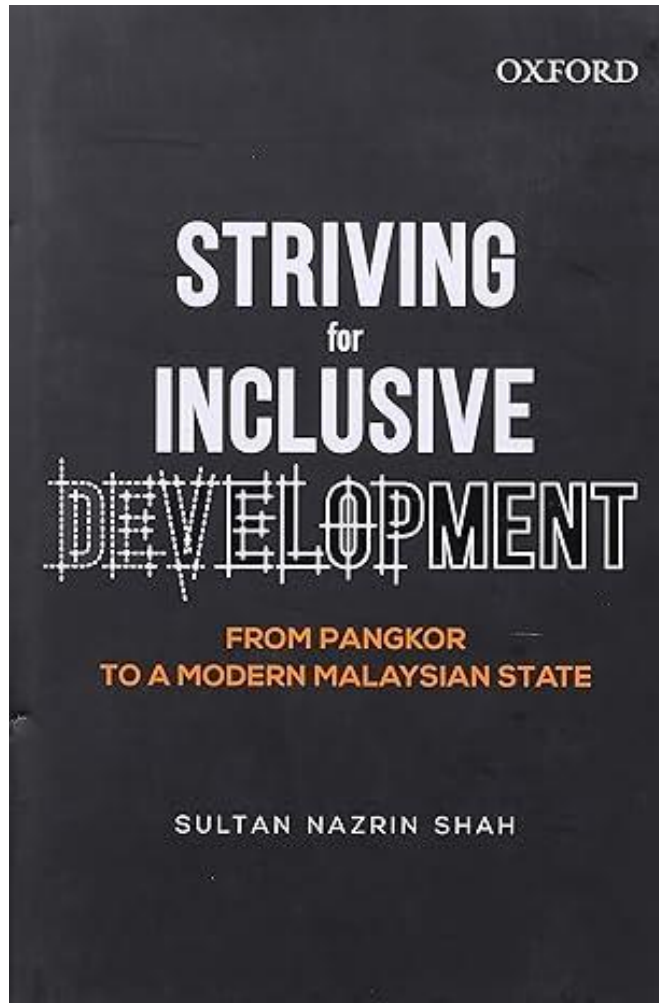

This is a study of Malaysia's new political economy, with a focus on ownership and control of the corporate sector. It offers a pioneering assessment of government-linked investment companies (GLICs), a type of state-owned institution that has long prevailed in the corporate sector but has not been analysed. Malaysia's history of government-business ties is unique, while the nature of the nexuses between the state and the corporate sector has undergone major transitions. Corporate power has shifted from the hands of foreign firms to the state to the ruling party, and well-connected businessmen, and back to the state. Corporate wealth is now heavily situated in the leading publicly-listed government-linked companies (GLCs), controlled through block shareholdings by a mere seven GLICs under the jurisdiction of the Minister of Finance. To indicate why these GLICs are important actors in Corporate Malaysia, this study provides a deep assessment of their ownership and control of Bursa Malaysia's top 100 publicly-listed enterprises.

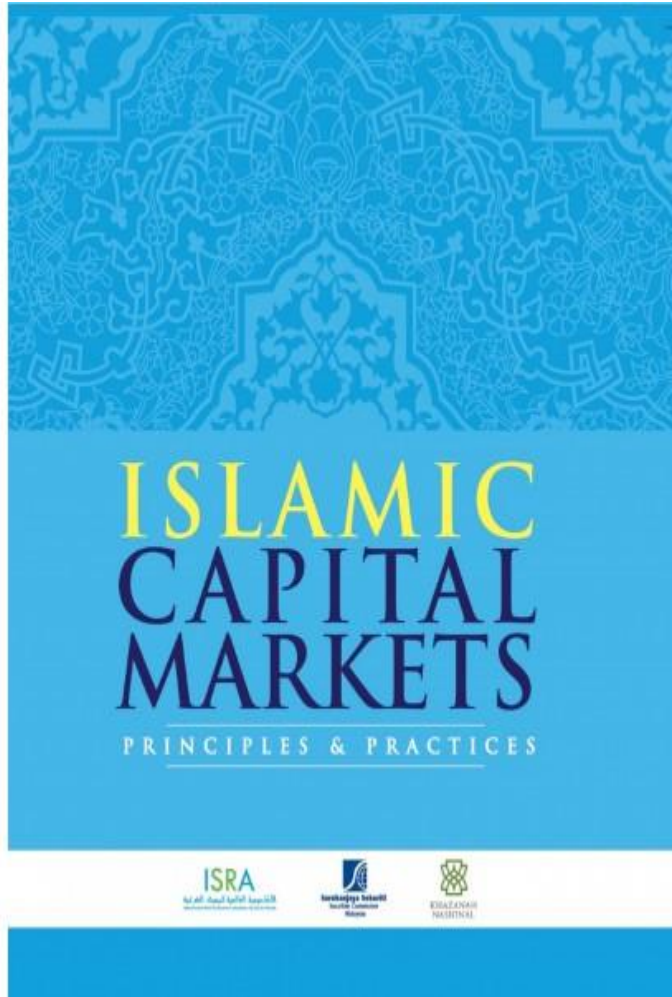

Labor Economics comprises of five chapters. These chapters are organized into two major parts. The first part focuses on supply side of labor which covers chapter 1 to chapter 3. Part two emphasizes demand side of labor which starts from chapter 4 to chapter 5. Labor economics is relevant to each of us and we are applying the concepts and the knowledge of labor economics in our daily life. Learning labor economics is important in helping us to understand how labor market functions, solves the problems pertaining to employment, and comes out with a meaningful decision from the standpoint as an employee, employer, as well as government.

Each chapter of the book begins with brief introduction and ends with conclusion which is explained in a simple language in Malaysia context. In addition to that, students could have a better understanding by practicing the exercise attached at the end of each paper.

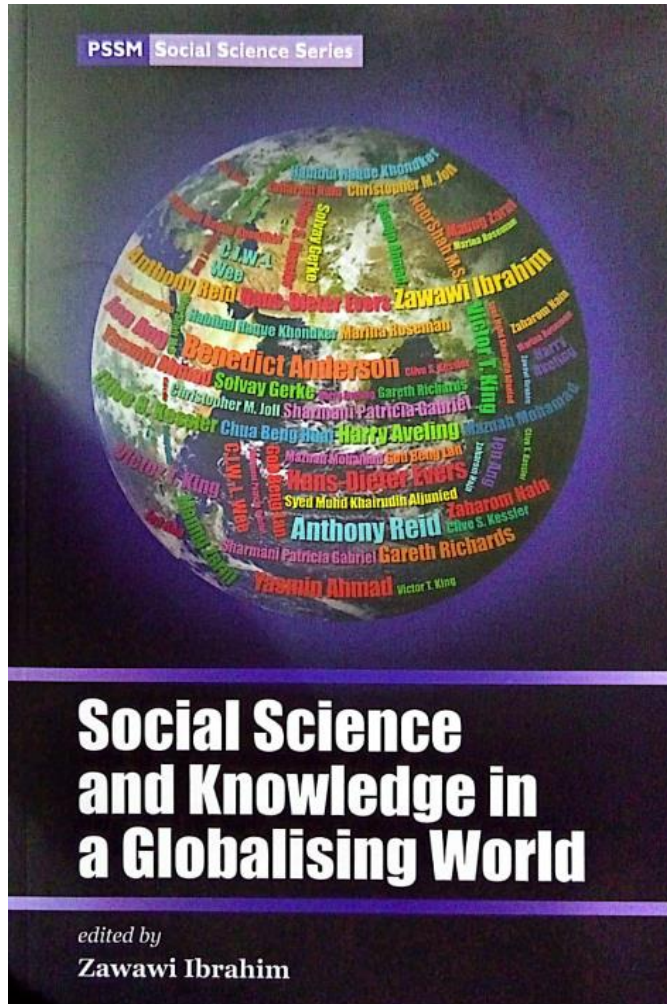

The author unearths the true roots of Malaysia's economic and social development—its people, their human capital and well-being, as well as economic structures—including how the British established institutions for the expansion of the lucrative tin and rubber trade, and how they encouraged labour immigration to support their economic ambitions.

Striving for Inclusive Development makes it clear that the country still faces huge and complex challenges. Building on its analysis of the past, this landmark book concludes with a forward-looking assessment of these challenges, and sets out Sultan Nazrin Shah's vision for an inclusive and sustainable future.

Antara isu yang diketengahkan meliputi aspek ekonomi, sosial, politik, psikologi, budaya, kerja sosial serta teknologi maklumat dan komunikasi yang memberi sisi penting dalam membincangkan usaha untuk membangunkan komuniti. Pembangunan komuniti merupakan satu proses berterusan yang membangunkan komuniti. Kini, pembangunan komuniti dilihat spektrum yang menyeluruh yang akhirnya bermatlamat untuk memberi kesejahteraan hidup kepada komuniti.

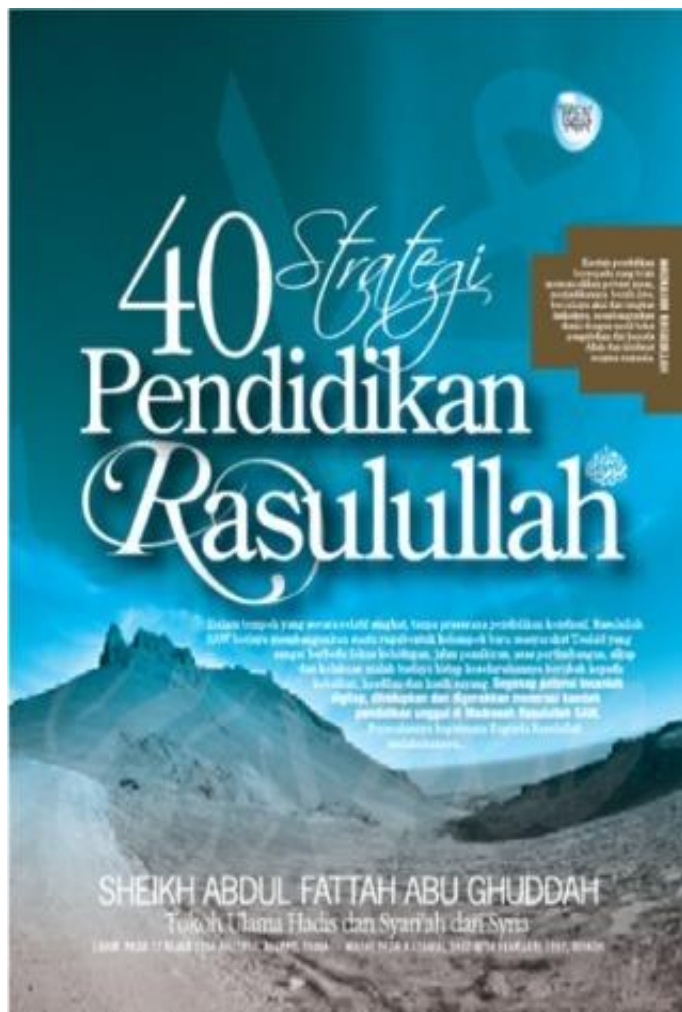

“Dalam buku penting ini, Vicky Price memberikan perhatiannya kepada krisis masa kini yang melanda Eropah dan mengingatkan kita bahawa keputusan politik yang dibuat tanpa asas ekonomi yang mantap dengan mudahnya akan membawa kepada kehampaan.” - Gus O’Donell

Ahli Ekonomi, Vicky Pryce menegaskan bahawa melihat pada kelemahan pembentukannya, Zon Euro sejak awal lagi telah ditakdirkan gagal. Ahli politik mengabaikan pertimbangan akal dan sengaja mewujudkan sistem berdasarkan motif politik, bukannya ekonomi. Mereka gagal menyediakan benteng untuk menangani krisis yang tidak dapat dielakkan dan kurang memberikan penekanan pada struktur pemulihan yang praktikal untuk negara yang memerlukannya. Semua ini adalah resipi untuk bencana dan Eropah kini bagaikan menuai badai itu.

Adakah kini untuk masa Greece keluar? Dengan tertumpu pada Greece - bukan sahaja negara asalnya, tetapi juga dilihat sebagai ancaman utama kepada kelangsungan euro - Pryce mengupas sejarah Zon Euro, punca krisis ini, sambil mengutuk usul penyelesaian rasmi sebagai tidak produktif, mencadangkan jalan keluar daripada kekalutan semasa.

40 STRATEGI PENDIDIKAN RASULULLAH

Dalam tempoh yang secara relatif singkat, tanpa prasarana pendidikan kondusif, Rasulullah SAW berjaya membangunkan suatu rupabentuk kelompok baru masyarakat Tauhid yang sangat berbeda fokus kehidupan, jalan pemikiran, asas pertimbangan, sikap dan kelakuan malah budaya hidup keseluruhannya berubah kepada kebaikan, keadilan dan kasih sayang. Segenap potensi insaniah digilap, dihidupkan dan digerakkan menerusi kaedah pendidikan unggul di Madrasah Rasulullah SAW. Permasalahannya, bagaimana Baginda Rasulullah SAW melakukannya?
