FINANCIAL INCLUSIVENESS OF THE POOR BEYOND MICROFINANCE

This book addresses several issues in developing the Islamic microfinance institutions. The most challenging issues for microfinance institution is between exclusion and inclusion. Customers are excluded from the main mainstream financial institutions but they are included in the Islamic microfinance institutions. Islamic microfinance institutions have potential to grow due to their ability to bring financial access to an underserved market and due to the growing size of this market, the world's poorest. However, Islamic microfinance institutions might fail to serve the targeted group. These failures might be due to the following reasons: many Islamic microfinance institutions never reach either the minimal scale or the efficiency level necessary to cover costs; many Islamic microfinance institutions face non-supportive policy frameworks and daunting physical, social and economic challenges; some Islamic microfinance institutions fail to manage their funds adequately enough to meet future cash needs and as a result faced liquidity problems; and some Islamic microfinance institutions had neither the financial management systems nor the skills required to run a successful operation.

A VIEW FROM THE RINGSIDE: THE GLOBAL FINANCIAL CRISIS 2007-2010 FROM AN ASIAN ECONOMIST'S PERSPECTIVE

JABATAN PERDANA MENTERI
JABATAN PERANGKAAN MALAYSIA

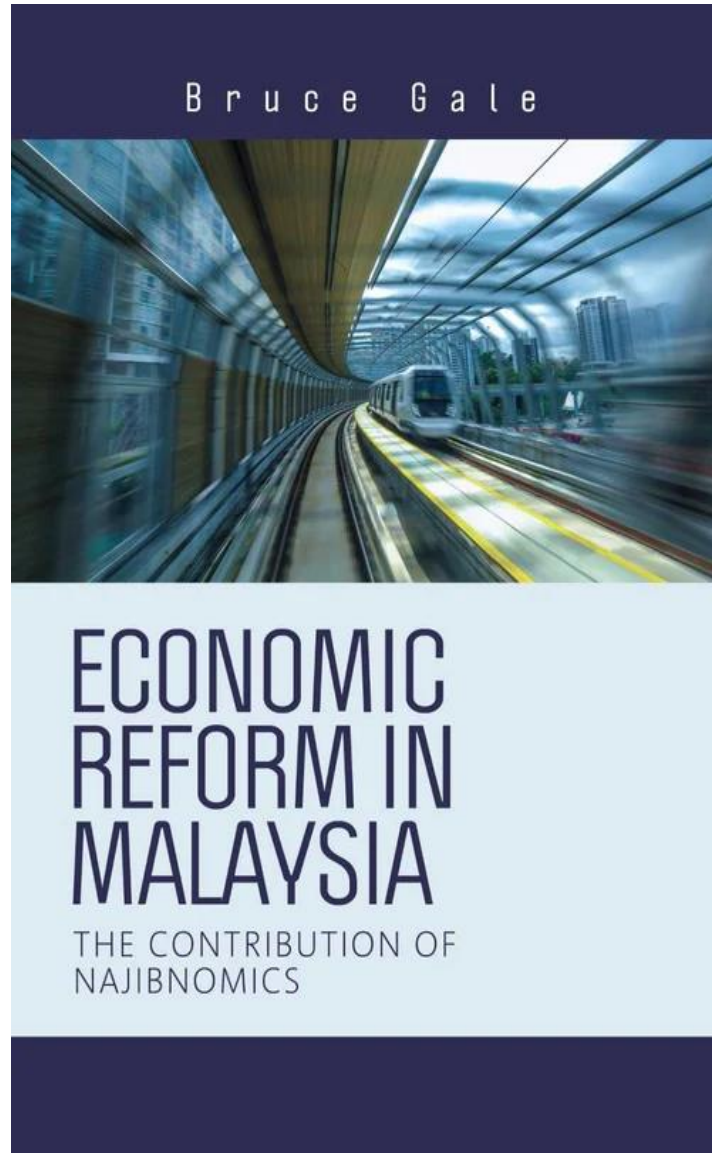

A unique collection of thoughts put down on paper during the tumultuous Global Financial Crisis of 2007 and 2008, this tome comprises not just a detailed timeline of that frightening period, but captures all the fears, moves, and little triumphs at a time when the world thought the global economy would collapse and worldwide conflict erupt. While the impact was muted in Asia, behind the scenes economists, industry players and governments were frantically building bunds to stave off the floodwaters of misery from America and Europe.

Strategic and tactical options were all brought forth and this book exemplifies a range of them in simple, everyday reader form in any aspect that mattered, from what happened in the Asian Financial Crisis in 1997 and 1998, to how economies develop, to thoughts on reforming the global financial architecture and the rise of China. The book is, quite simply, economics and geostrategy in action.

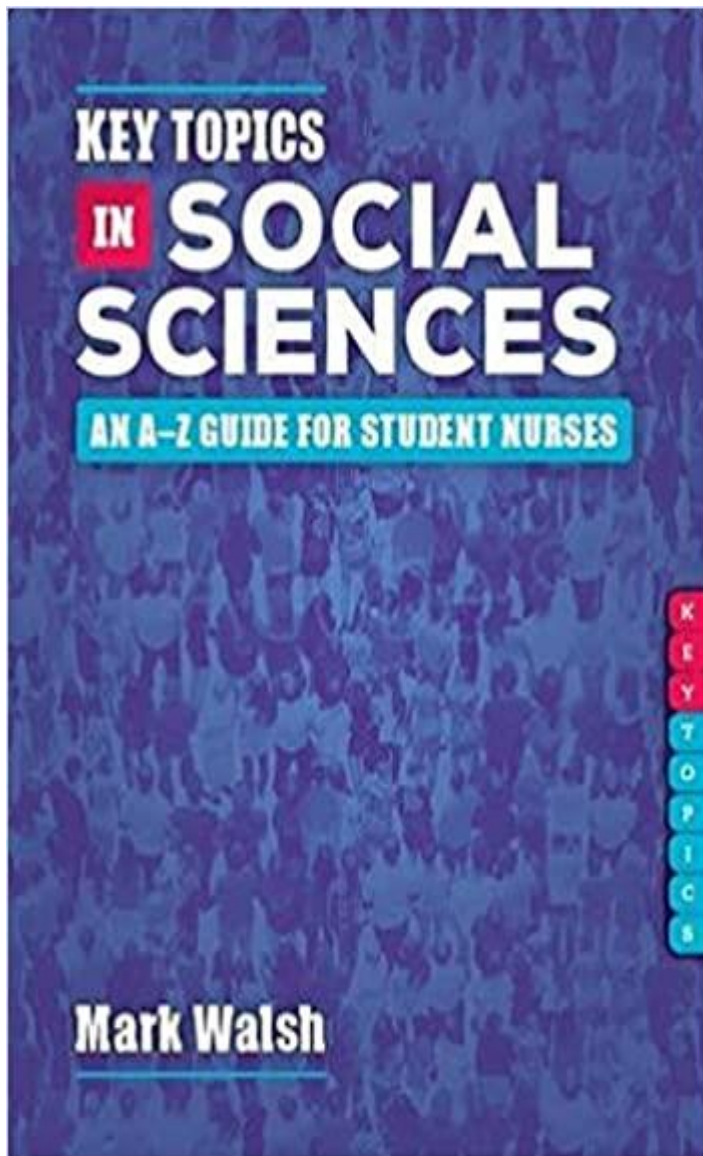

ECONOMIC REFORM IN MALAYSIA : THE CONTRIBUTION OF NAJIBNOMICS

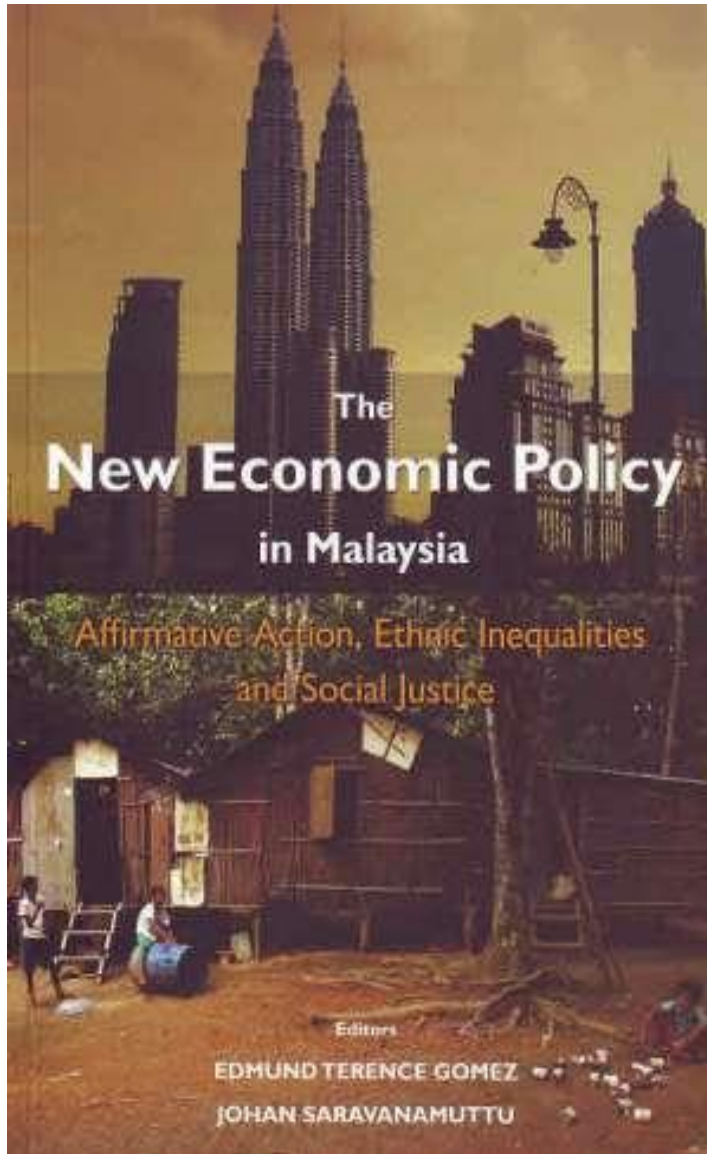

When Najib Razak became Prime Minister of Malaysia in April 2009 he was immediately faced with a crisis. A precipitous decline in exports in the wake of the global financial crisis had left the economy teetering on recession, while efforts to release the country from the fiscal straitjacket imposed by heavy fuel and other subsidies inherited from previous administrations had produced a surge in inflation.

Najib is the first trained economist to head the government in the nation's history. What role did he play in this economics transformation? And to what extent have the unpopular economic policies he pursued contributed to this success? Eschewing the political rhetoric that has become so common when discussing the Malaysian economy in recent years, this book seeks to answer such questions.

For more than 40 years the New Economic Policy and its successor programmed have shaped Malaysia's socioeconomic development and the allocation of political power. The original policy sought to eradicate poverty and achieve economic parity among the country's various ethnic communities. However, it was based on an apparent paradox — the use of ethnic preference to promote national unity. The policy's core tenet was affirmative action on behalf of the Bumiputra community.

Leadership Behaviours, University Culture and Leadership Effectiveness for Academic Work in Malaysian Public Universities

Malaysian public universities face continual challenges in their pursuit to become leaders in the field of higher education globally and provide quality education to young Malaysians. Effective leadership plays an important role in this quest for excellence and leadership research in the higher education landscape can inform and guide future developments in these institutions.

DEMOGRAPHIC TRANSITION AND SOCIO-ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT IN MALAYSIA

Editors: Tey Nai Peng • Lai Siow Li • Noor Azina Ismail

In Malaysia, the demographic transition of mortality and fertility from a high to a low level has resulted in a dramatic age structural shift, giving rise to a demographic dividend. Malaysia has put in place the various mechanisms in development planning to improve human capital. Consequently, Malaysia has done well to realize the demographic dividend in achieving rapid socio-economic development, which in turn affected the demographic processes.

The introductory chapter of this book elucidates the linkages between population and development, with particular reference to Malaysia. Chapters 2 to 4 present an update of the demographic situation in Malaysia in terms of changes in the population structure, fertility, and mortality. Chapters 5 to 8 focus on the family, women, youths, and the older people in the context of socio-economic changes. The remaining three chapters analyze the linkages between demographic changes and human capital development, epidemiological transition, and environmental degradation.

THE GLOBAL MACRO ECONOMY AND FINANCE

THE GLOBAL MACRO ECONOMY AND FINANCE

Edited by
Franklin Allen, Masahiko Aoki,
Jean-Paul Fitoussi, Nobuhiro Kiyotaki,
Roger Gordon
and Joseph E. Stiglitz

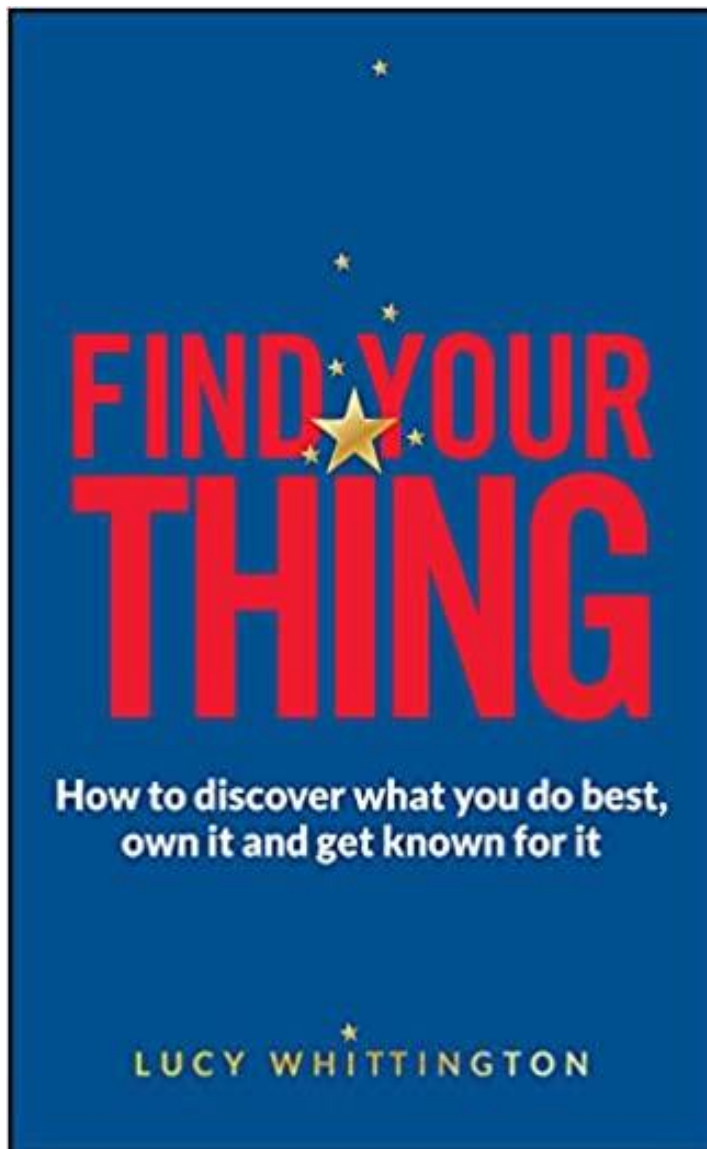

IEA Conference Volume No. 150-III

This volume explores fundamental macroeconomic and financial issues of today from fresh perspectives. Bringing together leading scholars and practitioners in the fields, it analyzes the light that the recent crisis has shed on the global macro economy, sectoral structure and financial architecture, and proposes policies needed to address systemic financial risks and foster a sustainable growth. It also explores the measurement of economic and social progress in our societies, and proposes new frameworks to integrate economic dimensions with other aspects of human wellbeing. This volume provides valuable suggestions for how to foster robust recovery from the crisis, and how to prevent its recurrence.

FIND YOUR THING

Finding it, refining it, loving it, and actually getting out there and doing it

Don't waste your life not doing something you aren't brilliant at, not setting the world on fire with your ideas, your thinking, your inventions, your words — it doesn't matter how you do your Thing, what matters is that you DO IT! And how about turning that Thing into your business too? Lucy Whittington is on a mission — she wants everyone in the world to do what they're brilliant at and not just what they're 'good' at. Having done what she was 'good' at for a long time (marketing), and getting overqualified with an MBA, Lucy realized that her 'Thing' was finding other people's Thing and helping them turn it into a great business that they love. In this book, Lucy uses her proven five-step process to help even more people find what they are brilliant at.

- Find out what you should be doing and how to make a living from it
- Take advantage of Lucy's expertise and follow her five-step process for success
- Be inspired and gain real practical advice
- Receive guidance on taking your new business to the next level by creating your "Star Plan"
- Become famous for what you do

Imagine being so gifted that the work you are paid to do comes as naturally as breathing, and is so enjoyable that you would do it for free. It can happen. You're gifted at something, and that something is marketable. You can put yourself on the path to your ideal life, but first you have to Find Your Thing.

"STATISTIK...SEGALANYA PASTI"

Tak kira walau apa
Cabaran dan aral melintang
Statistik meringankan
Segala beban yang menjelma
Gementar tiada

Tidak hanya berbicara
Pagi hingga ke senja
Semangat yang terus membara
Data dan kehidupan berteraskan harapan
dan impian kemakmuran

Bersama kita teguh hadapi
Bentala dipenuhi misteri
Namun statistik kan
melindungi
Statistik petunjuk realiti

Segalanya PASTI
Bergalaskan strategi
Menuju aspirasi
Harapan.. Keamanan
Impian... Kedamaian

Kesejahteraan negara
Perpaduan seluruh bangsa
